The Employer and the Union acknowledge that all employees have the right to work in an environment free from harassment and where employees treat each other with dignity and respect. The parties agree to work together under the corporate

Prevention of Workplace Harassment Policy to ensure that the workplace is harassment-free.

25.02 Workplace Harassment Defined

Harassment is defined as conduct directed against another person that involves comments and/or actions that a reasonable person knows or ought to know would cause offence, humiliation or intimidation to another person.

There are two categories of workplace harassment. These include Human Rights based Harassment and General Harassment.

25.03 Human Rights based Harassment

Human Rights based Harassment is based on the grounds prohibited by the BC Human Rights Code (i.e. race, sex, colour, ancestry, place of origin, political belief, religion, marital status, family status, sexual orientation, physical or mental disability, age or criminal conviction unrelated to employment)

25.04 Human Rights based Harassment also includes Sexual Harassment.

Sexual harassment includes any unwanted attention of a sexual nature. Examples of this type of conduct may include, but is not limited to the following:

- 1) Conduct or comments of a sexual nature that are unwelcome and that create an intimidating, hostile, or poisoned work environment, or that could reasonably be thought to put sexual conditions on an employee's job or employment opportunities;
- 2) A compromising invitation with sexual overtones or sexual comment;
- 3) Unwanted touching, pinching, patting;
- 4) Unwelcome sexual flirtations, advances or propositions;
- 5) Sexually suggestive, obscene or degrading comments, remarks or gestures;
- 6) Offensive jokes of a sexual nature;
- 7) Leering or staring;
- 8) Displaying or circulating pictures or other material of a sexual nature;
- 9) Remarks about appearance or personal life; and/or
- 10) Stalking.

Sexual harassment should not be confused with regular social and interpersonal relations between co-workers. Rather, it is behaviour that is coercive, forced, threatening or unwanted.

25.05 General Harassment

All other forms of harassment not linked to the prohibited grounds specified in the BC Human Rights Code fall within the category of General Harassment.

25.06 Examples of Harassment Conduct

Both Human Rights based and General Harassment share similar types of conduct, however as indicated above, Human Rights based Harassment is conduct that is linked to the prohibited grounds defined by the BC Human Rights Code. Both types of harassment may include but are not limited to the following:

- 1) Bullying;
- 2) Verbal abuse;
- 3) Physical assault or abuse;
- 4) Derogatory remarks;
- 5) Displays of pornographic or offensive materials;
- 6) Unwelcome invitations or requests;
- 7) Innuendoes or taunts;
- 8) Leering or unnecessary physical contact;
- 9) Threats or intimidation;
- 10) Practical jokes that cause awkwardness or embarrassment;
- 11) Retaliation for filing a workplace harassment complaint.

Harassment is not:

- 1) properly discharged supervisory responsibilities.
- 2) disagreement between employees (worker to worker) that do not fall into the categories of harassment as noted above.

25.07 Informal Complaint Resolution Process

a) Filing a Complaint

If an employee believes that they have been harassed on the basis of any of the grounds noted above, the employee should:

- i. Tell the alleged harasser(s) to stop, if possible;
- ii. Document the event(s), complete with the time, date, location, names of witnesses and details of the event(s) if possible;
- iii. If the complainant does not feel able to approach the alleged harasser(s) directly, or if, after being told to stop, the alleged harasser continues, the complainant should contact the designated Union or Gateway Casino representative and/or the Gateway Casino confidential harassment telephone line. The Union Representative for all cases of harassment will be the Human Rights Representative or Women's Advocate or designated full time Officer of the Local Union or their designate.

b) Investigation

The Company and the Union agree that in some cases, the Parties may try to resolve a harassment complaint informally without a full investigation, for example, when so requested by the complainant.

If the complainant disagrees with the attempted informal resolution, and if the complaint involves Human Rights based Harassment there will be a joint investigation of the complaint.

25.08 Formal Complaint Resolution Process for Human Rights based Harassment

Formal Human Rights based harassment complaints involving either two Unifor members or a Unifor member and an exempt employee or an employee from another jurisdiction, will be jointly investigated. The Union, in consultation with the Company, will appoint Unifor harassment investigators. The Union designate will ensure that the Unifor harassment investigators are fully trained and that investigations are distributed in an equitable manner among them as far as is practicable. In the event of a cross-jurisdictional complaint, the Employer may appoint a neutral third party investigator and will involve a harassment investigator from each Union jurisdiction.

Human Rights based harassment complaints that are proceeding to the Formal Complaint Resolution step must:

1. Be submitted in writing to the, Gateway Casino Manager responsible for Human Rights issues, or designate, and copied to the designated Unifor harassment representative;

2. Where the complainant is a woman and the complaint involves sexual harassment or gender discrimination, the joint investigation team may consist of female representatives, unless otherwise requested.
3. It is the intention of the union and the company that the investigation will commence within fifteen (15) days of the lodging of the complaint. An extension of time limits may be granted by mutual agreement.

The interview timing and location will recognize the need to maintain confidentiality. The identity of the complainant, the alleged harasser(s), and the nature of the complaint will be kept confidential and only persons with a need to know will be informed of the complaint. Records of the investigation, including interviews, evidence and recommendations will be securely maintained by both Parties.

Upon completion of the investigation the parties will prepare a joint recommendation. The complainant and the respondent will be advised of the findings and recommended actions, if appropriate, that result from the investigation. Such actions will be implemented as quickly as possible. Where there is a disagreement between the parties an independent harassment investigator may be retained to make final recommendations. The Company and the Union will share the cost for the investigator equally.

This process in no way precludes the complainant's rights to seek action under the applicable Human Rights legislation.

25.09 Vexatious Complaints

A complaint is vexatious when it is made solely to cause trouble or annoyance to another person or to receive some personal benefit. Filing a vexatious complaint may result in discipline.

25.10 Retaliation

Retaliation against any individual involved in a workplace harassment complaint may result in discipline.

25.11 Harassment and Discrimination Training

- (a) Once per calendar year, the Company will hold two (2) hour paid harassment and discrimination training programs for those employees who have not yet received such training.
- (b) Representatives from the Union will be permitted to attend all of these sessions and participate in the discussion at no cost to the Company.
- (c) Refresher courses on harassment and discrimination for individuals and/or groups will be scheduled as required.
